Inquest Over Murder of Amos Robinson to Be Held Tonight.

NO TRACE OF MURDERER

Members of Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, Observe Third Anniversary.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., October 11, 1913. After viewing the body of Amos Robinson, colored, who was shot and killed late yesterday afternoon at Washington and Jefferson streets by Robert Hampton, colored, a coroner's jury this morning, after viewing the body, was adjourned by Coroner Mocre until 8 o'clock tonight, when testimony will be heard. The jury is composed of the following: William Desmond. Courtney Acton, Thomas H. Henshaw, Alfred Thomson, J. K. Brown and James W. Bales, Following the murder Hampton made his escape and has not yet been captured The Washington police were notified to be on the lookout for him. According to information obtained by the police regarding the murder, Hampthe time and brushed against Robinson while on Jefferson street near Washington. Robinson took offense at this and cursed Hampton and also hurled bricks at him. Hampton went into the house where he lives, nearby, got a pistol and, coming out, fired one shot at Robinson. It lodged in the right side of the neck, severing the jugular vein. After being shot Robinson ran almost a square, falling dead in an alley in the rear of Washington and Jefferson streets. Hampton ran past the man he had snot, going in a southerly direction.

Robinson was about thirty-five years old and lived at 717 South Washington street. Hampton is about forty years old and lives near Washington and Jefferson streets. He is described as being of gingerbread color and weighs be-tween 185 and 200 pounds and is close to from Coatesville, Pa., and has been in the police court. December 11, 1911, he was fined $50 in the police court for carrying a pistol. Recently he was arraigned on suspicion of the larceny of money, but was acquitted. It is reported that last night Hampton returned to the house where he had been living and told a colored woman that he did not propose to leave Alexandria until he had killed three other colored men, giving the names of those whom he poses to kill are now said to be terrorstricken over the affair, and are keeping close quarters for fear of the mur

H. K. Field, chairman of the finance committee, made a statement in which he said that neither the committee nor himself had made any claim that the city was bankrupt.
Mr. Fields said, however, that at the present time the city needs about $25,000, and he added that the city is certainly living beyond its means. His remarks, he said, were prompted by the fact that criticism had been made regarding the city being bankrupt.
